

Handling SMS Notifications in client applications

Overview

Before iOS and Android Native-based or Cordova-based applications are able to receive and display incoming SMS notifications, the application must first be set-up, and APIs must be implemented.

Refer to the following topics to learn how to handle incoming push notifications in client applications:

Last modified on November 17, 2016